Dear Friends, Donors and Volunteers,

Thank you again for your help with our various LifeNets projects. Because of you we are able to help with scholarships, orphans, street children, livelihood development, agriculture, fresh water and much more. We want to share with you our latest brochure that tells the LifeNets story. If you need more of these brochures to give to friends, please let us know and we will send you more.

It's been a difficult economic year when many charitable organizations have had to make severe cutbacks and some have had to close. LifeNets, however, reports a year of sustained progress and even growth. We are deeply grateful to you for sharing our vision and your resources to help those who are much worse off than we are.

We are sending you our 2010 calendar as a reminder throughout the year about some of the fruits of LifeNets work. The calendar shows long-term changes made in the lives of those we've helped. We again thank Scott Moss for designing the calendar. We thank Hopkins Printing in Columbus, Ohio for their gracious donation of printing it for us.

I'd like to tell you about our newest and most ambitious project for the coming year. We plan to build a secondary school for children in the eighth through 12th grades in Blantyre, Malawi. We would like to call it LifeNets Academy. The Malawi government selects relatively few primary students to go on to government schools. Because of this, private schools are important because they are able to offer a better education than the government schools which have poor learning materials and few teachers.

LifeNets Academy will:

- Provide a high level of quality education
- Prepare students for University level education
- Teach Christian values and moral behaviors

At this time we are waiting for the Malawi Housing Authority to grant us permission to purchase a piece of land to develop into this much needed private secondary school. The Malawi Housing Authority has asked us for a sketch of plans showing how the land would be developed. Once that is agreed upon, a full architectural drawing will be made to more accurately determine the total cost of this project.

Many of you have shown an interest in this project and funds have been donated to begin the building process. We plan for an American Malawian to travel to his homeland to serve as our foreman. He is well-connected in Malawi and should be of great help in cost management.

This project is intended to provide enhanced education to both paying students and LifeNets scholarship students. The school will have a minimum of ten classrooms. The classrooms will surround a large meeting hall that can be used for various type meetings such as church services.

Included in the plans will be a LifeNets office and modest caretakers facilities. Since this project is to be cash generating, the segment that requires immediate funding is land acquisition, security wall and school construction. Much of the rest is to be self financed by the income.

We will be able to provide other services through night classes for adults who did not have the chance to go to school when they were young. There they will learn basic skills. We can provide opportunities for computer classes and also for business management courses.

We look forward to sharing more information with you as we have it.

We thank you again for your support and interest in LifeNets and your commitment to our Mission which is to help in practical ways, develop self-sufficiency and help beneficiaries pass on their LifeNets benefit to others. This mission has worked for ten years. Please go to our Web site at www.lifennets.org for more information about all that we do.

We thank you for choosing to make a difference in someone's life. All of us at LifeNets take great joy in being part of this process. We appreciate each and everyone of you. We thank you for making LifeNets your charity of choice!

There is still time to make a tax-exempt (in the United States) donation for the 2009 taxable year. You can also donate on our Website www.lifennets.org via PayPal or credit card.

Most gratefully,
